DEFINITION FIAP: MONOCHROME A work in black and white, going from light gray (white) to very dark gray (black), is a monochrome work with different shades of gray. A black and white work turned entirely in a single color will be considered a monochrome work, being able to appear in the black and white category. On the contrary, a work in black and white modified by a partial turn or with the addition of a color, becomes a work in color (polychrome), having to appear in the color category.

NOTES Sending images or files to the exhibition under FIAP Sponsorship, the participant accepts without any exception and objection that the images submitted may be investigated by FIAP to establish whether they obey FIAP regulations and definitions, even if the participant is not a member of the FIAP, that FIAP will use the means at its disposal for this company, that any refusal to cooperate with the FIAP or any refusal to send the original files captured by the camera, or in the absence of sufficient evidence, will be sanctioned by the FIAP and that in case of sanctions the name of the entrant will be published in any form as a report of violations of the rules. The notification of the results will be made by email. The gallery of the accepted works can be consulted on the website:
